12 Paragraph (b) of the RW Com. letter no 1312 of 26.7.10 proposes that in all cases in which the fairs or shows are held in connection with festivals in temples & fees are levied on cattle & realizations from sale of manure etc. are credited to the temple funds, a substantial sum should be contributed towards the cost of awarding prizes & arranging the show and making needful sanitary arrangements during the show & that the contribution should be divided equally between murrayai funds & Dist. Local Funds.

It is respectfully submitted that the murrayai portion of the contribution to be paid evidently out of the funds of the Institution concerned may under that rule be in excess of the collections credited to the same in which case the show will act prejudicially to its financial interests.
So it is desirable that the contribution ~~be~~ ~~paid~~ if it is to be paid at all should bear some definite proportion to the collections credited to the temple. The point of the cattle shows be left to a committee consisting of the leading non-official and officials in the St., preferably the Agricultural Association or the Cooperative Society. The amount that can be expected out of private subscriptions has to be taken into consideration in providing for the expenditure of the show.

The places where the shows should be held & the expenditure required for the shows should be determined revising the list if necessary, as the late First Committee the present Dewan was of opinion that it is not expedient to have several shows in the same St. The First Committee has recorded his opinion that the cost of the shows held in connection with the games of the major institutions, ~~at least~~ should be met from the St and Muz: funds in the proportion of opinion that half the cost the amount required in

from the General Revenues

Why should State funds bear any portion of the expenditure?

Why should Muzrai funds pay more than what they realize by the cattle shows? The draft is not clear.

- 37 I have already said that the Muzeri fees of the temple will be for the charges for progress and carrying and distribution. This, I believe, is what is done at Chenchu - Kothé and Hemgiri and other places.
- 38 ~~There does not~~ so far as I can see the draft appears unobjectionable provided that the meaning of the term "fee" referred to in paras 4 and 5 is clearly understood.
- 39 A fee is levied on all cattle brought to a fair. This, I believe, is no place more than 2 annas per head. This is credited to the Temple funds. A further fee is levied on bulls selected and admitted to the show. This may go to District funds; and if this is the fee referred to in paras 4 and 5 of the draft there can be no objection.

Rajakarya, Pravina

A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, Esq., B. A., B. L.,

Revenue Commissioner in Mysore.

To

The Secretary to the Government of

His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,

General & Revenue Departments.

SIR,

With reference to para 4 of Government Order No. 4951-4/L.B.75-07-2 dated 28th November 1907, requesting me to submit for the approval of Government a set of rules for regulating the award of prizes and the arrangements to be made at cattle shows, and Government Order No. 11764-7/L.B.75-07-4, dated 12th May 1908, calling for the early submission of a draft on the lines on which reports of cattle shows should be drawn up, I have the honor to state that in my opinion it would suffice if the following main principles are recognised and acted upon:-

(a). That the management of these shows should be left chiefly to a committee consisting of the leading non-officials and officials of the district or taluk in which the fairs or shows are held, guided and assisted by the Deputy Commissioner and his subordinate officers, and, preferably to the Agricultural Association of the District or Taluks, or in the absence of Agricultural Associations, to Co-operative Credit Societies, if there is one such at the place, and if the Society is willing to take the management of the show.

(b). In all cases in which the fairs or shows are held in connection with festivals in temples, and fees are levied on cattle and realizations from sale of manure &c are credited to the temple funds, a substantial sum should be contributed towards the cost of awarding prizes and arranging the show and making needful sanitary arrangements during the show, which contribution should be divided equally between Muzrai funds and District Local Funds.

(c). In cases in which the shows are held independently of any Jatra in temple, the cost of the shows should be met by the levy of fees on cattle admitted to the show and contributions to an equal amount from the District Local Funds. If the money available from both these sources is not sufficient, then a grant not exceeding Rs. 250/- a year may be made by the Government, through the Revenue Commissioner, to make up the deficiency, for which applications should be made in time for provision to be made in the annual budget.

admitted to the show

(d). The rate of fees to be levied on cattle be left to the decision of the local committee, the maximum and minimum fee for each head of cattle being laid down by Government.

(e). The rates levied in one year be not altered in subsequent years without adequate notice and without the previous sanction of Government.

(f). That three months prior to every show a short notice of the same containing the number and value of prizes to be awarded and the conditions of award and the dates on which the shows are to be held shall be published in English and Kanarase in the Mysore Gazette. Copies of this notice may also be sent to Collectors of neighbouring British Districts for publication in their District Gazettes free of charge.

(g). Within the expiry of three months after the holding of the show, a clear and concise report of the show (not exceeding 4 or 5 pages, foolscap in manuscript) under the heads noted in the margin should be submitted to Govern-

1. Committee of management.
2. Number of cattle exhibited.
3. Number of cattle selected.
4. Classification of cattle according to breeds, size, age &c.
5. Number of prizes awarded.
6. Place of cattle show and its suitability as regards water supply and sanitary requirements.
7. Total expenses incurred and how met.
8. Concluding remarks including a comparison of the results of the show with those of the preceding year.

ment through the Revenue Commissioner and these reports with the order of the Government thereon shall be published in the Mysore Gazette for the information of the people in English and Kanarase.

(h). Whenever possible, the Cattle Disease Inspector or one of the Assistant Veterinary Inspectors should help the management in judging the prize cattle &c and also deliver lectures in the vernacular to the assembled ryots on the methods to be adopted for improving the breed of cattle and arresting the spread of cattle diseases.

I beg to add that the delay in replying to this reference was due to

to my desire to get together materials for publishing a list of cattle shows to be held in the State annually in the shape of a handbook on lines similar to those adopted by the Civil Veterinary Department in British India and submitting a copy thereof together with these draft rules. With this object I tried my best to obtain from Deputy Commissioners the necessary information which, however, is not forthcoming fully yet. So, I have to defer it for the present and be content with submitting draft rules which have been long pending.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

For Revenue Commissioner.
